Rationale for the teaching of Music

Music is a vital and grounding part of a child's education and allow pupils at Newstead to develop a love of music and express themselves creatively, along with gaining a sense of achievement.

Music is an inspiring and practical subject where children can be engaged and inspired to compose and appreciate a range of musical disciplines.

Aims for the teaching of Music

Our aims in Music are that all children can:

- Singing - A wide range of traditional and contemporary songs from Britain and around the world.
- Listen and evaluate a range of music genres
- Understand a range of musical terminology
- To use a variety of tuned and un-tuned percussion
- To gain confidence to compose and perform a piece of music
